

RACISM AND THE BIBLE

1

Racism and the Bible , many people think about the racism in the Bible . But racism and the bible are two things in the universe. Both are different things.

2

Racism is defined as prejudice and discrimination against someone of a different race based on the belief that one's own race is superior. The Bible condemns all forms of racism and teaches that every human being is created with equal dignity and God-given worth.

3

While these truths are clearly evident from any faithful reading of scripture bible , it is also important to acknowledge that all of us read the Bible through the lens of our own culture, unconscious biases, and ethnic lenses. As Christians, we should strive to live out this example in our daily lives.

4

It is clear that Racism is wrong and God doesn't define anyone's character in a particular religion. We all are the same whatever religion we have and whatever color we have there is nothing about racism. We are unanimous in our condemnation of racism as contrary to the heart of God and the clear teaching of scripture.

5

The Bible consistently teaches the universal problem of sinner human hearts. The Bible makes it clear that racism is wrong and entirely contradictory to God's command to love our people, that is unconditional love, and the teachings of Jesus. Contact us for information:
