

Young Decade IT Software Solution

is geared on increasing business efficiency from master planning, usage, and development to hosted solutions.

Founded in November 2014 and based in Indore, the company offers support for businesses' IT needs. Our main focus was providing clients with finished data innovation solutions. Our portfolio was promptly expanded with hosting arrangements in response to customer requests and to fully cover the gamut of IT services. We work on and on.

STEP 01
Idea Validation

Together, Young Decade identifies the areas of your business that might be improved. Then, we do a proof of concept to see if the suggested model is workable. Through robust communication, we fine-tune the proposal to your specific requirements and set realistic milestones for project completion. The more details you provide, the better your product will be designed.

STEP 02
Product Design

Our in-house team's expertise spans all areas of custom software design. We make sure our prototype model contains all the required characteristics while being firmly aligned with sophisticated UX and UI design standards.

STEP 03
Development

Using the right tech stack, we set to work developing an end-to-end solution while conducting continuous testing. Our specialists have the experience to work with great efficiency and accuracy when creating a minimum viable product (MVP).

STEP 04
Testing

We carry out thorough QA testing, both with internal and external users. We adopt a collaborative approach to determining which areas may be optimized as well as summarize and present outcomes to you. By using custom software engineering, we can make adjustments until you are completely happy that the application that will be used by your firm in the future is what you had in mind.

STEP 05
Launch

We want your product to be successful, we offer marketing assistance both before and after the product introduction. Together with solid technical assistance, Young Decade also provides proactive threat neutralization through the use of monitoring technologies. This assistance extends to after-hours for unforeseen circumstances. If you report an issue, we quickly identify it and fix it.
